When I pray, the blessings flow in three dimensions weaving inward, outward, upward from my soul

Chorus: words to heal a broken heart deeds to mend a broken world dreams to flow into the Source of all there is

From my head my hands my heart my prayers flow inward reconnecting with the music in my soul

With my words my deeds my tears my prayers flow outward reconnecting shattered fragments of the world

With my thoughts my songs my dreams my prayers flow upward reconnecting with the Source of all there is

When I pray, the blessings flow in three dimensions
weaving inward, outward, upward from my soul

[Repeat final chorus 2 or 3 times]
